Dr. Hye.

10 December 2007
I cannot begin to express my gratitude enough for your gracious contribution to the Muslim recruits currently going through their initial training here at Marine Corps Recruit Depot Parris Island. I only had the copies of the Qur'an in my hands for about an hour before I already was able to place some in the hands of recruits who were looking for them.

Since we currently have around 6,000 recruits at Parris Island, I also took the step of sharing this wonderful gift with my fellow chaplains so that they could in turn share them with the recruits under their care. These Qur'an are a perfect size for recruits to be able to keep with their personal gear, and I am sure will help keep the spiritual well-being high for Muslim recruits currently going through training.

Recruit training is a tremendous spiritual experience, and we constantly urge our recruits to make sure that they feed their spiritual needs as much as they feed their physical needs. Thank you for helping us to keep our Muslim recruits spiritually fed.

Dear Dr. Abdul Hye,

The Pentagon Chaplain's Office is grateful for your graciousness in helping to provide Qur'an our personnel serving here in the Pentagon community. We are thankful for the encouragement that comes from knowing that we have American citizens who want to help meet the spiritual and emotional needs of our Troops.

During times of war, hostile fire and stressful operations, people need to be able to draw strength from their respective Scriptures. The Qur'an you are allowing us to purchase will help bring strength to our Muslim Soldiers and help foster understanding to others who are seeking to learn more about Islam. Your efforts are a blessing to those serving in the Pentagon and you have our sincere appreciation for your extraordinary care and support.

Sincerely

WONDERS OF SPACE EXPLORATION

LECTURES explaining the benefits of space exploration got underway today.

The Al Areen Group is organising the lectures over four days, which will be given by famed National Aeronautics and Space Administration (Nasa) scientist Dr Abdule Hye.

They will be held at the Al Areen Palace and Spa Resort in Sadaa.

An event to announce the lectures was opened by group chairman Fawzi

Al Awadi last night.

Dr Hye will give a series of talks about how Bahrainis can become engineers at Nasa, entrepreneurship in space technology and science, astronomy and the chance to handover of students from universities and schools across the country.

Anyone wishing to attend the lectures, which will run daily from 9.30am to 1.30pm until Wednesday, can call 33279721.

Opening up wonders of space before you

Students who want to take a plunge into the wonders of space will have a chance to interact with a Bahraini scientist who worked with NASA for 28 years.

Abdulhai, a retired scientist, will meet youngsters at a week-long workshop organised by the Al Areen Holding Company.

The opening of the event took place yesterday in Al Areen Palace and Spa at Nadwa hall 2 and 3.

The sessions will start today.

The event aims to inspire youngsters in this field which will help put Bahrain at the forefront in space studies, company's marketing manager Gaby Abdo said.

Mr. Abdulhai

Mr. Abdulhai was able to derive a link between space and Quran which might interest a lot of children," he said.

A total of 18 books written by him on this subject are available in English, French and Spanish.

The workshop is open to students of all nationalities in the age group of 12 and above.

"Around 300 school and university students will attend the lectures," said Mr. Abd.

Each day will deal with different topics and Mr. Abdulhai will talk about his experience in NASA.

"This is a unique opportunity for young Bahrainis to learn from the professor's expertise," Al Areen Holding Chairman Faisal

Abdullah Al Awadi said.

The event is supported by Governor of the Southern Governorate Shaikh Abdulla bin Rashid Al Khalifa along with Crown Prince's Court, the Ministry of Education, Ministry of Justice and Islamic Affairs, the Astronomical Society of Bahrain, Bahrain University, Ministry of Information, Ministry of Energy, Ministry of Works, the Supreme Council for Women and Bahrain Development Bank.

Mr. Al Awadi

Abdullah Al Awadi said,

Yesterday's presentation was about "Space Benefits" which was attended by around 350 students from various educational institutions in the country.

NASA scientist lectures to students

Roberto Carrillo
rtcarillo@th

The first set of lectures were held yesterday by NASA scientist and Islamic presenter DR. ABDEL HYE at the Al Areen Palace and Spa.

The lectures were organised by Al Areen Holdings. The lectures will continue until Wednesday 9am - 11am for school students and at 11.30am - 1.30pm for university students.

Dr Hye is a Bangladeshi scientist who started working for NASA in the 80s as a mechanical engineer creating experiments, hardware and technologies that are sent out to space.

Although a practising Muslim, he says he has not found it difficult to reconcile his religious beliefs with his science-based job.

He has been holding lectures in different parts of the world to educate people about the relationship of science and Islam and how both support each other.

Yesterday's presentation was about "Space Benefits" which was attended by around 350 students from various educational institutions in the country.

Today Dr Hye will be discussing 'Entrepreneurship In Space Technology' where he explains that many technologies beneficial to human life have actually originated from experimental technology in NASA such as satellite communications.

Tomorrow, will be one of the focal presentations of Dr. Hye as he will be discussing "Allah's Universe and Science - Astronomy and Quran".

He has been instrumental to NASA for educating the public about the various instances where science is revealed in the Quran to Prophet Muhammad before discoverers and scientists studied them.

On Wednesday, he will talk about how difficult it was for him, as a Bahraini, to become a scientist at NASA.

Dr. Hye has also written several books about the relationship of science and Islam and maintains a website to spread his message around the world.

Jubail Da'wah Center News Bulletin

- A well-known American scholar and scientist from US was in Jubail recently to deliver a lecture on the Holy Qur'an and Science.
- Abdul Hye, who worked for NASA for nearly three decades, is actively engaged in propagating the message of Islam. His lecture was organized by Jubail Dawah & Guidance Center.
- He has delivered presentations to NASA team members and at the Islamic Centers of US. His talk, based on copious references from the Holy Qur'an, helped enlighten a large number of men and women about Allah's ﷺ supreme power and His authority over His creations.
- “It is my firm belief that Islam and science go hand in hand,” he said. “Science without religion is lame and religion without science is blind.”
- During a Q&A session, members of the audience raised points, which prompted Hye to come up with detailed explanations.

USA Correctional Centers & Jail Supply Project

There are thousands of Muslims in Jail in every state. They have a lot of time to read. Many of them are reading the Qur'an. Every Jail has a library. Non-Muslims can also read the Qur'an or any Islamic book from the library.

Sometimes we are very excited when we see someone become a Muslim in front of us in the Masjid or at any place. How about these Muslims in Jail? They studied, came in contact with other Muslims in Jail and became Muslim. Now they want to learn more and practice more to become better Muslim. They have no money and can not make calls. They can only write. I receive letters every week asking for help. Ask yourself, if we don't help them, who will? They complain that Christian missionaries visit jails regularly and provide them with Bibles and other books. These poor Muslims wait and hope that Muslims will also visit them, provide them with items (see below), encourage them for becoming Muslims, etc. They write that there are hardly any Muslims who visit them in months except for a few. They get frustrated and disappointed. How long can they hold on to their faith?

Imam Abdul Rahman Sabir was in jail when he became a Muslim. He decided to dedicate his life to deliver these items to jail by mail or in person across the USA. He understands the need much better than many of us.

Many of us have these items lying in your house collecting dust. I earnestly request any Muslim / community / Masjid to please organize and collect these items and send them to Imam Sabir by USPS (media rate, lowest). It does not cost you anything but will help these Muslims. Your little effort can make a big difference in their lives. I can't emphasize more by writing. Please act for Allah. They are the followers of Muhammad (saw), like us. Please forward this flier to any person / city you have contact with. May Allah reward you.

Wassalam
Dr. Abdul Hye

QURAN
Righteousness is not that you turn your faces toward the east or the west, but [true] righteousness is [in] one who believes in Allah, the Last Day, the angels, the Book, and the prophets and gives wealth, in spite of love for it, to relatives, orphans, the needy, the traveler, those who ask [for help], and for freeing slaves; [and who] establishes prayer and gives zakah; [those who] fulfill their promise when they promise; and [those who] are patient in poverty and hardship and during battle. Those are the ones who have been true, and it is those who are the righteous.
Quran 2:177

HADITH
Narrated Abdullah bin Amr bin Al-As: Allah's Messenger (Peace be upon him) told me, "The most beloved prayer to Allah is that of David and the most beloved fasts to Allah are those of David. He used to sleep for half of the night and then pray for one third of the night and again sleep for its sixth part and used to fast on alternate days."

Islamic Horizons

Muslims devise creative ways to help fellow citizen overcome misunderstandings.

EFFECTIVE WAYS TO SHARE ISLAM

Despite the rising Islamophobia in North America, many people in the mainstream community are willing to invert their perceptions of Islam and Muslims. But how do we communicate the message? Yes, there is readiness to listen and even the opportunity to get noticed—if one dares to right.

Would it not be nice to if your local newspaper recognized your effort to share Islam? This happened to Dr. Abdul Hye, an engineer, when a reporter for suburban Houston's "The Baytown Sun" highlighted his PowerPoint presentation, which has garnered positive reviews; visits to his website, www.wheredoyoustand.net; and inquiries from churches, corporations, and radio stations; and requests for use by others. He has been distributing it through e-mail for about a year now, and has received encouraging responses from around the world. In fact, even non-Muslims have requested permission to use it.

In response to a request from several Hispanic families, Dr. Omar Weesam, director general of Centro Cultural Islamico de Mexico AG (CCIM), Mexico City, translated two of Abdul Hye's books. In addition, one of his Honduran emulators translated the PowerPoint presentation. Now, some Hispanic Muslims are using these resources to share Islam with their communities and churches.

God asks Muslims to share Islam with others in beautiful ways (Qur'an 16:125) and then leaves it up to Muslims to devise the most suitable ways. Abdul Hye, who has authored eleven books on Islam and da'wah, including an English interpretation of the Qur'an for non-Muslims, says that one such way is to present Islam as part of the continuation of Abraham's religion through Moses and Jesus that reached its completion through Muhammad (peace and blessings be upon them all). Such a method has many advantages, among them discussing the commonalities of the different monotheistic religions, presenting Islam in a positive light, relating Islam to all other monotheistic belief systems, and talking respectfully of Judaism and Christianity. This, he says, helps to continue the dialogue without hard feelings, for each side can understand its position, history, and how these three religions are related.

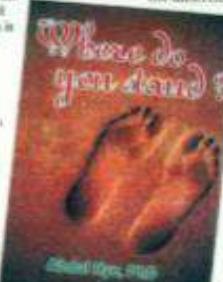

Abdul Hye has incorporated these points in his book "Where Do You Stand?" His second book, "What Every Muslim Should Know," recently was out exclusively to women. He keeps his books a manageable 100–150 pages, avoids foreign words and text, and compiles them in a logical sequence to build a case for Islam and introduce it to the readers. The Spanish version is also available.

Muslims are using his forty-minute PowerPoint presentation, made from these two books, to interact with people whom they meet during the course of their daily activities. The goal is that every Muslim use these resources, and he invites Muslims to obtain them, lend them to others for one or two weeks, and then follow-up with positive information.

Once while addressing a church audience, Abdul Hye realized that most non-Muslims get their misinformation on Islam from the media. He says that his presentation has removed many of these misunderstandings and that people want to know more, adding that if we follow-up, then they will begin to understand and will request more information. If constant engagement is maintained, then people accept the facts. Muslims have nothing to lose, he says: "We should not be silent bystanders watching the damage being done to Islam."

Open house held at mosque to educate residents

By MATTHEW COOK
The Baytown Sun

BAYTOWN — In an effort to open communication between Baytowians and other members of the community, the Baytown Mosque hosted an open house and information session Sunday.

Approximately 100 people attended the afternoon program, which included a slide show and refreshments.

"We're just telling the people about Islam," said Sheikh Abu Muhammed, the imam of the Baytown Islamic Center Mosque. "Some people have a bad idea about Islam. We need to change it ourselves."

Abdul Hye gave a presentation about Islam, the Quran and the similarities between Islam, Christianity and Judaism.

Like Jesus and Christians, Muslims follow a prophet. God, the Quran or Allah, like the Torah or the Bible. The prophet Muhammad is believed to be a messenger of Allah, or God.

Muslims believe Muhammad is a messenger of Allah, like Moses, Jesus, Moses and Jesus; Islam also is the only other religion, next to Christianity. In which followers believe the birth of Jesus Christ was a divine act. Both Christians and Muslims believe that Jesus was born of the Virgin Mary.

However, Muslims differ from Christians because they believe that Jesus was a prophet, not the Son of God.

Hye said there are references throughout the Torah and the Bible to the coming of Mohammed. He said that the name prophet, messiah, Jesus speaks of Mohammed.

One of the misconceptions Hye sought to clear up is the notion that all Muslims are Arabs. "Many people have the notion that all Muslims are Arabic," he said. "Only 15 percent are Arabic. There are more Muslims in America than all other religions combined."

Hye said that Muslims make up the second largest religious population in the United States, after Christianity. About 2.4 percent of the U.S. population are Muslim. Christians make up 84 percent, Hye said.

Hye also said the Islamic concept of jihad has been poorly translated by the media. "Jihad does not have several different meanings, such as an individual's struggle to remain faithful or a nation's right to defend itself from invaders. However, a jihad can never be waged to force anyone to convert to Islam," Hye said.

Hye also said that some voices that claim to oppose sword-women are incorrect. He said women could cover themselves because of the theological emphasis on purity.

"Women in Islam are respected for their minds, not their bodies," Hye said.

Muslims are also forbidden from persecuting non-Muslims, according to Mohammed, Hye said. "The Muslim religion teaches that all who believe in God and strive for goodness, including Jews and Christians, will enter the heavens in the afterlife."

After the presentation, Baytowans said Sunday's event offered a chance to open up lines of communication with the Muslim neighbors.

"We are a part of this community," he said. "We are supposed to work together. We feel that we should have more communication with other religious groups. We share these common values."

ABDUL HYE gives a slide presentation on Islam and the Muslim community at Baytown Mosque as part of an open house Sunday.
